

ITINERARY – PHUKET

Embarkation at the Yacht Haven Marina

Our boats are based in the Yacht Haven Marine, 15 minutes north of the Airport.

Day 1 :: PHANG NGA BAY

You can cross through the heart of the bay to Pan Yi fishing village. An incredible sea village island made of houses atop stilts, complete with homes, shops, schools, mosque and even a market. After exploring Pan Yi you can visit at the North end of Phang Nga Bay: The James Bond Island which was made famous by appearing in the James Bond film "The Man with the Golden Gun". Phang Nga Bay is one of the Natural Wonders of the World.

Day 2 :: KRABI

Heading South, you approach Krabi and the beach at Ao Nang Bay. There you will find many resorts, shops, restaurants and nightlife spots. Just to the South is the world famous Railey Beach, protected from road access by rock walls on either side. Here you can do some kayaking or rock climbing. Further South the place is very good for diving and snorkeling.

Day 3 :: KOH PHI PHI

Spectacular cliffs rising vertically out of the clear blue sea, idyllic tropical beaches, and lagoons surrounded by rock walls, have made Phi Phi Islands famous all over the world. You can snorkel in warm turquoise water in secluded bays, see the famous Maya bay, used in Leonardo di Caprio's hit movie 'The Beach' and head ashore to enjoy a beachside massage. In the evening you can eat and relax on the Yacht or head ashore and enjoy the restaurants and nightlife of the island.

Day 4 :: KOH LANTA

Koh Lanta lies on the West coast of Andaman Sea in between Krabi and Phi Phi Island. Stunning scenery, fantastic white sandy beaches, coastlines have more than 70 small islands and plenty with forest, coral reefs and under water life. The geography of the island is typically mangroves, coral rimmed beaches, and rugged tree covered hills. Lanta is far away from the main towns of Phuket and Krabi, and offers a far more peaceful version of Thailand. In fact, so peaceful that 1 day might not be enough!

Day 5 :: KOH MUK

Ko Muk is mostly occupied by sea-facing towering cliffs to the west. On the east side of the island is a village of fishers who have still maintained their ways of life as islanders. On the island to the west is Tham Morakot, a sea cave. With light from the outside, emerald water can be seen inside the cave.

Day 6 :: KOH ROK NOK

Brilliant white-sand beaches, crystal-clear water, expansive coral reefs and metre-long monitor lizards: welcome to Ko Rok.

Protected as part of Mu Ko Lanta National Park, these gorgeous twin islands boast some of the finest snorkelling in Thailand's Andaman Sea.

Roughly the same size, they sit only 250 metres apart, with hard and soft coral covering the channel in between.

Day 7 :: KOH RACHA

West of Phi Phi is Racha Islands, a true tropical paradise 12km South of Phuket. The waters are crystal clear and the sandy beaches are snowy white. The waters around Racha Islands are best known as excellent diving and snorkelling daytrip destinations. The other large bay, Ao Siam, is a pretty place where lonely strolls in solitude are possible.

Day 8 :: PHUKET

Near the main island of Phuket, there are numerous small islands off the east coast that can be explored on your final day. It will be temptation to see them all but you will have to make a choice. Maybe do some snorkeling at Coral Island, or feeding the fishes from the beach at Khai Nok. You often see dolphins and occasionally whales in this area so always keep your camera handy to capture unforgettable moments of your cruise around Phuket.
